

A3X review by Audiofanzine

„It's the ADAM mini-me!“

Audiofanzine, one of the leading online magazines in the fields of audio and musical instruments, has recently reviewed ADAM's smallest professional monitor, the new A3X. Here are some extracts from this review's conclusion:

„...without a doubt the best compact speaker...“

„Owning a pair of ADAMs for less than $600 is now possible and, trust us, the small A3X are surprising. The low-frequency response is very powerful, considering their size, and the X-ART tweeter produces a very detailed sound. The German manufacturer seems to not have compromised the manufacturing quality when lowering the price. Plus, the speakers have some very practical details like the front power switch and the stereo link function. (...) the ADAM A3X is without a doubt the best compact speaker in this price range.“

Red Led, audiofanzine.com 30.01.2011

For the full review please go to Audiofanzine's website:
<http://en.audiofanzine.com/active-monitor/adam/a3x/editorial/reviews/the-tiny-adam.html>

